AMERICANIZED. WELLS, FARGO & CO.'S That is the title the publishers have press under the name of the Americanized Encyclopædia Britannica. The Americanized is based on the original and ninth edition of that world-famed work, the Encyclopædia Britannica. The points of difference in the two works are: First, the Engglish edition, published all the way from five to twenty years ago, has become out of date. The Americanized Encyclopædia Britannica has brought every subject treated of in the original work down to date, making it of more practical use to the American reader who is interested in American subjects. than the English work itself, which, being compiled by Englishmen for the use of Englishmen, neglected American subjects, and in a great many given the work just issued from the cases did not mention them at all. Second-The English edition does not mention the name of any living person, no matter how noted they The Americanized Encyclopædia Britannica more than makes this omission good by adding nearly 4,000 new biographies of living men and women; also including those recently deceased, whose names will be handed down in history.

To illustrate the difference, the English edition devotes over six columns to an English county, and but three-quarters of a column to an American State. The Americanized Encyclopædia Britannica reverses this order by giving the six columns of space to the American State and the three-fourths of a column to the English county. You are more interested about American matters than you are about English, aren't you? Well, if you look up the English edition you will find an exhaustive treatise on Birmingham, England, and when you look for Birmingham, Alabama, an American city of over 40,000 population, the English edition doesn't even mention

Well, it seems that the Encyclopredia Britannica should be AMER ICANIZED ! And that is just whe the publishers have done. They have taken the Encyclopædia Britannica ic pieces, as it were, and remodeled it for the American reader, the whole work being brought down to date. Now, you know enough about the Americanised Encyclopædia Britannica to know if you want further information. If so, call at our office and examine the work. Meanwhile, read our proposition. If you think favorably of it, place your subscription to our paper and obtain this valuable work of reference on the following easy terms : We we set of Encycloped as for $30, $5 down and $2.50 per men b til paid; THE BUNDLY HERALD and the set for $22 50, and THE SEMI-WEEKLY HERALD and and THE SEMI-WEELT HERALD and the set (with a premium receipt) for $2.00, aiso in monthly payments if desired.
